How To Use

Just before the game starts BOTH teams will fill out individual lineup cards for their respective teams.

Fill out this line up card in the exact order you have filled out your own score sheet lineup.

Sign this card and exchange it for the opponents' team signed line up card.

If a player shows up to the field late and is able to play in the field for at least 3 innings, the teams' captain will approach the opposition teams' captain to have them add that player to the line up card

If a player has to leave the game other than due to an injury, and has not played in the field three innings, their name will be scratched from the line up card, and that teams' captain will initial the "scratch".

Note: The "3 innings in the field" rule can be modified if the number of players vs official innings played make "3 innings" impossible, or The captains agree to a valid reason.

The opposition teams' captain will use this card to verify the official statistics on the leagues' web site.

The three boxes in each batters' box is to be used to keep track of innings played in the field. It is recommended that the base coach closest to the opposition dugout will update the fielders' innings Played info, or relay the fielder Information by asking the bench players of the opposition team if necessary.
